JD BADROCK

JD Badrock writes thrillers and other novels, short stories, and poems, usually with a good dose of humour in them.

A qualified accountant, she had a successful career in the city, working in investments and financial services. She changed direction and ended her career as the finance director of a major UK charity. A career break allowed JD Badrock to gain an art degree at Central St Martins. She spent a year with an Essex-based artist group working with children in after-school clubs. She then took on interim finance roles in the voluntary sector while renovating ‘the money pit’ aka her rambling house and gardens.

When not writing, you can find her in her being creative in her art studio or pottering about in the garden.
